

Dr. (Major) RAVI PRAKASH

Head of the Department & Consultant
Department of Critical Care

HOD & Consultant Critical Care

Dr. (Major) Ravi Prakash is an ex-Army Medical Officer (Major) with extensive experience in both Government and corporate sectors. A seasoned professional with hands-on experience in clinical and administrative positions. An ex-Associate Teacher at ISCCM, demonstrating dedication, clinical competence, and excellence in medical administration with 13 years of experience. Proven leadership in team management and patient care across diverse cultural backgrounds.

Education and Trainings

- MBBS from Armed Forces Medical College
- PGDBM from Symbiosis Institute
- MD Anaesthesiology from Delhi University/Army Hospital/AIIMS
- DNB Anaesthesiology
- FNB Critical Care
- EDAIC (European Diploma in Anaesthesia and Intensive Care)

Previous Associations

- University Hospital of Wales, Cardiff, UK
- BLK Super Specialty Hospital
- Army Hospital/AIIMS
- Indian Army

Fellowship

- Clinical Fellow at University Hospital of Wales, Cardiff, UK
- Fellow of National Board Critical Care

Treatment Specialisations

- Advanced Airway Management
- Percutaneous tracheostomies
- Bronchoscopies
- Mechanical ventilation in various clinical settings
- Insertion and interpretation of invasive monitoring devices
- Ultrasonography in ICU (IVC assessment, lung USG, ECHO)
- Management of critically ill patients in Medical, Surgical & Trauma ICU
- Safe transfer of critically ill patients, including air ambulances

Achievements

- Sanya Seva Medal
- Sena Seva Suraksha Medal